Reference:

What is referencing?

When you are writing a piece of work and use someone else's words or ideas you must reference them. This means that you need to include detailed information on all sources consulted, both within your text (in-text citations) and at the end of your work (reference list).

Why is it important?

Referencing...

- ✓ Is crucial to successful research.
- ✓ Helps the reader to find the original source if they wish.
- ✓ Improves your writing skills
- ✓ Adds authenticity to your argument.
- ✓ Shows that you have read widely.
- ✓ Can help you get better marks.

Which system should I use?

There are several different referencing styles used within Queens, therefore you must check your module/School handbook to clarify which system to use. It is important to use the referencing style consistently throughout your piece of work.

What is plagiarism?

Plagiarism involves deliberately or inadvertently presenting someone else's ideas as your own. It is cheating. It doesn't just apply to direct quotations but summarised and paraphrased argument too. Plagiarism is treated very seriously and usually results in disciplinary action.

How to avoid plagiarism

- ✓ Plan your work in advance and manage your time effectively.
- ✓ Read a passage and then make notes afterwards. This makes it easier to use your own words.
- ✓ Note down all the details for each source as you work. This will help you to compile a reference list or bibliography.
- ✓ Save your notes and work until you receive your final mark.

Introduction to Harvard

Known as the author-date system two main elements

- i. citing within the text of an assignment
- ii. listing references at the end of an assignment

Each reference number should be enclosed in square brackets on the same line as the text, before any punctuation, with a space before the bracket.

Examples;

“. . .end of the line for my research [13].”

“The theory was first put forward in 2014 [1].”

“Scholtz [2] has argued. . . .”

“For example, see [7].”

“Several recent studies [3, 4, 15, 22] have suggested that. . . .”

Note: Authors and dates do not have to be written out after the first reference; use the bracketed number. Also, it is not necessary to write “in reference [2].” Just write “in [2].”

The preferred method to cite more than one source at a time is to list each reference in its own brackets, then separate with a comma or dash:

[1], [3], [5]

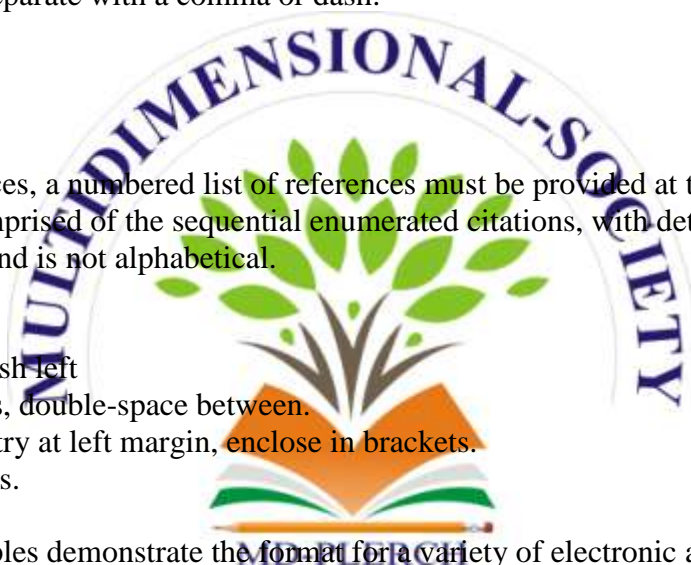

[1] – [5]

Reference Lists

To finish citing sources, a numbered list of references must be provided at the end of the paper. The list is comprised of the sequential enumerated citations, with details, beginning with [1], and is not alphabetical.

Page Format

- Place references flush left
- Single-space entries, double-space between.
- Place number of entry at left margin, enclose in brackets.
- Indent text of entries.

The following examples demonstrate the format for a variety of electronic and print sources. These citations are ones in widest use. Not everything is listed.

Analysis of reference list examples

When you write your reference list, you need to analyse the patterns of each reference type. Some basic details that you need to look for are authors/no authors, dates/no dates, titles, editions and publishers, pages, DOIs or /URLs, depending on the type of reference you need.

Examples

➤ Book (print)

Amish, K. M, Azeem, A. (2018). Coordination Chemistry. (Uttar Pradesh, India): Multidimensional Publications.

Analysis: Author/s. > (Year). > Title (in italics). > Place of publication (city, country): Publisher.

➤ Journal article (print)

Amish, K. (2018). Synthesis of Carbon Nanotube. Journal of Nanotechnology, 15, 170–176.

Analysis: Author/s. > (Year). > Title of the article. > Title of Journal, > volume (in italics), > pages.

➤ Journal article (online with a DOI)

Amish, K. M. (2018). The role of Chemistry in Environment . Indian Journal of Environmental Science, 14(1), 13–21. doi:10.1037/0278-6133.24.6.884
Analysis: Author/s. > (Year). > Title of the article. > Title of Journal, > volume(issue number), > pages. > doi:

➤ Authored document from a Website/web page (online)

Amish, K .M. (2018). The Synthesis of Nanoparticules Characterization and its Applications . Retrieved from Multidimensional Publisher website: <http://www.multidpublication.in>
Analysis: Author/s. > (Year). > Title of article/section. > Retrieved from Name of Website: > URL

Capitalisation styles in reference entries:

1. Minimal (Sentence style) is used for the titles of ALL reference list information sources EXCEPT for the titles of journal articles. Capitalise ONLY the first word, the first word after a question mark (?), a colon (:), or em dash (—), and proper nouns that normally require capitalisation (e.g. names of people, cultural groups, places etc.). Wong, D. S. (2007). New horizons in critical thinking: Engaging the modern Australian student. London, UK: Hodges & Stones.

2. Maximal (Headline style) is used ONLY for italicised titles of journals. The first letter of every MAJOR word in the journal title should be capitalised—conjunctions, articles and short prepositions are not considered major words. The first word after a colon is always capitalised. Suzuki, T., & Dillon, R. (2001). Working patterns in Australia: A new approach, Australian Journal of Applied Economics, 23(5), 34-40.

Formatting the reference list

- i. The reference list goes on a new page at the end of your assignment.
- ii. Head your page with References (upper and lower case letters) and centre (DO NOT use all capitals, underline or use italics).
- iii. Use the same spacing as your essay for the reference list (1.5 or double spaced).
- iv. Start each reference on a new line without a space between each reference item.
- v. Use hanging indent format for all items in the reference list.

Let the computer do the work for you:

1. Highlight your entire reference list
2. Paragraph (use the little arrow) ! (2007-2010+ Word version)
3. ! Indentation ! open Special (menu) ! select Hanging

There are many types of reference list resources that will have differences in format from the examples.
